ISTANBUL CITY HILLS:
MARGHERITA MOSCARDINI
IN CONVERSATION WITH PIPPO CIORRA

MA Curatorial Practice presents a conversation with artist Margherita Moscardini and senior curator MAXXI Architecture, Rome, Pippo Ciorra on Istanbul City Hills – On the Natural History of Dispersion and States of Aggregation (2013), Moscardini's multimedia project on the continuing urban transformation of Istanbul. Comprising a large-scale intervention, book, video document, map and body of satellite works, Istanbul City Hills raises several questions regarding the support, curation, and preservation of hard-to-classify impermanent artworks. Moderated by Jovana Stokic, MA Curatorial Practice deputy chair.

Free and open to the public.
